JAW-BREAKING NAMES.

How To Pronounce Prezmysl

The Polish campaign suffers under the disadvantage of abounding in names of places which cannot easily be pronounced and remembered. This advantage is not remedied by the fact that in the bullstime transmitted from Russia the Polish way of spelling is very often discarded in favour NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT of the Russian, which being based on an the TWENTY SEVENTH ORalphabet different from the Polish proceeds | DINARY MEETING of SHAREon purely phonetic principles. For instance, the Polish "Kalisz," becomes the Russian "Strates will be becomes the Polish "Szezeskow" Matheson & Company Limited on becomes the Russian "Shtcherkov." Hence that formidable name reads: Sh-tcher-kov. The reader will then also understand why "Kalisz" is phonetically equivalent to "Salish," and "Czenstochow" to "Tchenstochov." But in this latter han it is also necessary to bear in mind: ing German) is pronounced as in the Scottish "Lock." Hence Czonstochow will be pronounced "Tchenstokhov." Again, a stumbling block for the common reader is the Polish "c." This letter is always promounced "ts," whether it stands before a soft or a hard vowel or even a consopant. Thus Kielce, Pilica and Plock JARDINE, MATHESON & COMPANY are are respectively pronounced Kieltse. Pilitss, and Plotsk. On the other hand 1915 at 11.45 A.M for the purpose of the letter "z" when not associated with receiving the report of the Directors

FRENCH CASUALTIES IN TEN WEEKS.

Some idea of the lower sustained by the French troops is abtainable from a report submitted by M. Troussnint, director of THE HUNGKONG LAND RECLAMAthe military health service to the Army Commission. From Sept. 15 to the end of November, a period envering about ten weeks of the war, 489,733 wounded were treated in the French hospitals. No fewer than 54.5" per cent, of these, or upwards of 25,000, have been discharged cured and have rejoined the field forces, 129,000 are consalescent and more than 60,000 are on the read to recovery The figure of 2 48 per cent. of deaths of wounded in hospital is the lowest proportion ever recorded in a great war. The French Army Medical Service has 3,968 hospitals providing 366,000 beds, an accommodation that is more than ample for its needs.

ANatural Remedy

Time was when disease was thought to be due to the direct influence of evil spirits, and exorcism and magic were invoked to cast it out.

Science has taught us wisdom The evil spirits exist still. We call them Germs," and they also must be cast out. Once lodged in the stomach or intestines, fever with its hallucinations, or biliousness with its aches and pains, is the result.

FRUITSALT

is the approved remedy for driving out disease germs. Its action is quick and thorough. It clears the intestines, rouses the torpid liver to new life, stimulates the mucous membrane to a healthy action, and cleanses and invigorates the whole digestive tract.

- It may be safely taken at any time by young
- It is very effective in the early stage of Diarrhaea" by removing the irritating cause.

Story of German Raider.

About the latest known adventure of the German eruiser Kurlsruhe there is a saviey flavour of the old buccaneering days of long ago when good ships sailed the Southern Sons at the mercy of the Forage . black flag with the skull and cross- Meat bones, writes W. It was the Krufeld; one of the escorting squadron. Then a long dark streak of floating gossamer came up with the sun, and out of the 'cloud bank steamed the dreaded Karlsruhe.

PLAYING FOR TIME. The British captain stopped his en gines under the impression it was friendly visitor, but when the German flug was run up he realised in a flash that rapidity of thought and action was his only solvation, if he were to keep by blembers of more than one family, the old flag flying. He tried first of all the S.O.S. signal, but Von Issen by some ingenuity or chance picked up the message and sent a very angry message to the M—— that if he persisted in tricks THROUGHOUT by the Owners during the of that sort he would be sunk imme-

The British emptoin purposely delayed deciphering the signals from the Karlsruhe. Ho asked for them to be repeated without giving any sign that he was meanwhile preparing to make a dash for it and while he and Von Issen were arguing the matter half the crew of the M-had stripped in the stokehold and were shovelling in the coal. MORE SHOTS IN THE GOCKER. Von Issen gave chase. He fired a shot at the British ship-and missed. He fired a second, which chipped a bit off the captuin's bridge. Then muttered curses rose from the engineroom. Some thing enapped, and the M-was helpless. A German officer with armed guard soon came abourd, and after fulsely accusing the British emptain of carrying meat for our troops and searching the ship he had a further interview with the skipper in his room. Lying on the captain's table was an English newspaper, containing caricature of the Kaiser. He frowned indignantly "You have shocking news" papers in your cabin, sir," he said. The captain replied that he had worse ones in his locker if Von Essen would like to inspect them. The captain and crew of the M-found themselves prisoners the Krefeld in twenty minutes, and there they remained for severy weeks cating and deeping well and taking a keen interest in the Karlsruhe and her marand

They had lost their ship, but mone of the spirit of adventure, and they used to wake an at night and start spinning the armed guard all sorts of yorns. One day a rundar spread through the ship that a British warship was coming to the rescue. The rumour eached the ears of Von Issen and a wireless order came from the Karlsruhe that if any more rumours that sort were circulated the base inenter would instantly be shot, la it:-H. M.S. Glasgow, at Soa. Tuesday. Nov. 2, 1015 (1.0 aan.).

A RING ROUND THE RADISTORE. Animosities began to disappear as the weeks passed. Von Issen continued to dodge the British cruisers, and his harshness towards his prisoners relaxed. The Glasgow's Ordeal.

(From "The Dully Telegraph" of Die man

We have received from a member the erew of his Majo 18% ship Glass the following graphic account of action off the coast of Chili on Nov.

It has come at hist, and with a ven geance. Yesterday (Monday) mea we came out of Coronel, and after hour or so steaming picked up Majesty's ships Good Hepe, Monmonth and the auxiliary equises Otrunto. about 4.15 we sighted two large German ergisers-Scharnhorst and Gaeisenau, believe they call them-and one small erniser, named the Leipzic. However about five pairs, but by the Vice-Admiral in the Good Hope, then the Monmonth we went into action.

One of the large German emisers fired a salve at the Good Hope, which zonst have damaged the latter a good deal because she did not do much firing after wards. Before I go any further I might my that, upon getting within gun range we discovered there, were three small emisers as well asothe two large ones, so the Vice-Admiral sent the Otranto away, immediately on the opening round being fired. . For an hour and a half shore were going at a very rapid rate, until suddenly a hurst of cheering took place on the upper deck, and we heard that the Ger man dagship had been sunk, whilst anther was on fire. In the meantime we were engaged with two German ships.

Shortly after the cheering the truth came out, and what truth it was! was the Good Hope that had been blown eky high. An explosion took place amidship,, and our chips say they could see men blown high into the air. the Monimouth it was that was set on fire-twice, and also the was making to our stoker's branch. water rather badly, so, seeing the odds were five to two, and one of those in a practically helpless condition over began the whole of their squadron: DAMAGE SUSTAINED.

We got a shell through the captain's abin, and it made a decent " pot-mess" in there, I can assure you. Also got a hole through one of the funnels, which doesn't count; but we got one in the lower bunker, which is allowing water to get in at a rate necessitating pumping We have another gash in the after part, and that is all-and it sould be worse. No one was killed abourd here, but we had about ten who were injured; for the Monmouth. main part rather trivial. Five to three, and neither of our two large ones was as big as either of the two Germans.

It is a jolly marvel that we got out of the action at all. Towards the end us, but the old, old saying, " He that fights and runs away lives to fight another day," came in, so we nipped. Whether we get clear away or not it is hard to say. We are in a very peculiar position. It is a rough, mescalight night. so the elements are unkind to us. I don't know whether these German ships will follow us all the way, but if not, I shouldn't be surprised to see us go to the

The good little Glasgow is doing her twenty-three or more knots, but she really is getting buttered about tonight. sincerely hope you didn't think it cowardly of us to run away. As a matter of fact, the skipper wished to stay, think; but he saw the absolute futility of doing so. It would have been certain suicide. Fancy, at three p.m. the Good Hope with about 700 or 800 mcn on board and the Monmouth with about 600gone! Gone! What' a word; but what TNABLES traders throughout the World or meaning! It is hard to realise that we shan't see those little cadets come alongside in their ship's picket-boats any more. All the bluejackets say it was awful while it lasted. The German ships had the advantage in position. The thick, heavy smoke from their funnels was blowing right on to our ships, thus obscuring their own from the eyes of our Of course, we don't know what damage has been done to the German ships on the whole, but we do know that we shook up two of the smaller ships before the large ones commenced firing at us. sick bay and into the captain's cabin. LAST IN THE LINE. When we think of the action ugain we all wonder how we got away as we did. The whole fire of five ships was concenthe ship saved as from being riddled with the salves which they were fixing. We were the last ship in the line of battle, and we had to tackle two for a start, and jelly soon we put one of them out of action, but she came back again afterwards, only firing one gun. The poor old Good Hope and Monmouth were sub jected to a terrific fire, and the admiral lust words were, "Get away at full speed," but our skipper turned to his first lieutenant, and asked, " Am I to leave the admiral?" .- But the case was hopeless. BULLETS LOCATED BY TELE-PHONE.

Paris, December 12. In the course of a lecture at the Conser vatoire des Arts et Metiers yesterday, says the "Journal," Professor Violio stated that the Hughes balance was now being used to locate bullets in wounds.

It was enough, he declared, to pass one of the bobbins over the body of the wounded man, and to listen at the telephone to find the exact spot. The system is very simple and very certain, and would be of inestimable value where radiographic aparatus was not available.

The Hughes balance is composed of two soldies connected so as to make a balance between their primaries and secondaries. When the balance is established the telephone apparatus which is fixed between hem makes no sound, but when one of the bobbins comes pear a metallic body the equilibrium is destroyed, and the telephone ribrates .- Daily News.

OCCASIONAL NOTES.

The hour at which the Theatre Royal curtain rises should be late enough for any theatre goer, but apparently it is not. The first half hour of almost every performance sees a stoady stream of late arrivals, whose naisy sutrance and disputes with the ticket boys distract the attention of the rest of the sudience and mar their pleasure c. risidurably. Not content with this, some of them kept up an audible comment last vant to the entertainment. Want thought more than a desire to b discourtsous is probably the cause this, and perhaps reference to the matter with lead to more considerstion being shown by the guilty ones. Of course it is a long way, from the Peak and Kowloon, but an earlier dinner and a little more forethought would get over the difficulty. People who cannot be in their seats Chinese charged before Mr. Wood this at 9.15 should be excluded while items are they are a nuisance.

> There may be some people who understand local exchange in all its phases and complexities, but to most it is a puzzle which no amount of thought can solve. One of its most curious sepects is the relation of the silver dollar to the notes i-sued by the exchange banks. The intrinsic value of these notes is of course practically nil. Their worth hes in th fact that they convey the bank's promise to pay the hearer the amount specified upon them in Home kong currency—in other words, in silver dollars. And yet this promie is worth more then its fulfilment : the credit of the bank is of more worth than the credit of the Government !

> What is the reason of this ! Hopgkong enjoys the unenviable reputation of being the only place under the British flig which has a widely fluctuating currency. To many monied people this of course is at advantage; But there are many others who would be glad to know always the sterling value of the salary they were to draw at the end of the month. By the way I what has become of all the Hongkong twenty cent pieces? Whan Chicese coin was legal tender in the Colony the tweety cent was a familiar denomination; now it i

The appearance of a tiger in the new letritory should present a fine opportunity to the hundreds of gunners who overrun the peninsula every Sunday. So rapidly has their number increased recently that very soon there will not be a living thing in the more accessible parts of the British territory, and unless some stricter protection is afforded them some species o birds which are already source will be i danger of extinction....There is a difference between sportsmen and more gunners, of course, but judging from what one sees in vicinity of the railway most week-ends the gentlemen who pot at anything which rises are in the majority. The costumes and mass of equipment cirried by some of them remind one of "Les sports" who shout sengulla-or used to shoot them-from the boaches of Continental watering places. The inability of the Chinese auth rivies to deal with these river pests was already patent. Concealment of weapons is easy enough of course ; in the limited time at the disposal of the too few searchers available it is not to be expected that detections will be very frequent. The guards would doubt less be brave enough were they given the opportunity of lighting, but gentry of the kind that looted the Korg Hong showed kong Hotel, and Mr and Mrs. Dutton left that there are other means than force in overcoming them:

If a gunhant razed a few of them to the ground there would possibly be fewer of these pests about adjacent waters; but this is a equenmish time. And while the Chinese authorities have to devote their principal energies to quashing political intrigues s not to be expected that they can spare much time or thought for the maintainence of law and order in the Delta. RUSSIAN SUCCESSES IN EAST PRUSSIA. AN AUSTRIAN GRAIN MONOPOLY.

SERIOUS SHORTAGE OF FODDER.

LONDON, Jan. 29, 9.40 p.m. A telegram from Venice states that the Austrian Government has decided to organise a grain monopoly similar to that of the German. The Minister of Agriculture says that the army grain supply will last till August but that there is a serious shortage of fodder.

IMPORTANT RUSSIAN VICTORIES.

Progress In East Prussia.

LONDON, Jan. 29, 3.5 p.m.

A Petrograil communique amounces un important Russiah victory in General Council of Medical Education and the Carpathians and a two days' buttle from Dukla Pass to the south-cast. Registration of the United Kindgom shall. with important results.

The Russians forced the enemy to retreat at full speed, abandoning be required for registration by the sai ammunition and tremching implements. Other sacresses included the General Council, and provided that in the capture of officers and men in the Carpathians, the numbers of which opinion of the Bental Board he is of good have not been estimated.

Everywhere the enemy failed.

The situation is unchanged in Bukovina.

The Russian progress continues in Fast Prossia, and fighting has been particularly herce in the woods to the north of Pilkallen and Gumbinnen. At all points the Germans were repulsed or gave ground.

Our troops, supported by supports in the region of Borjimoff, mined and contiled to the grant of a certificate of disloged the Germans.

THE STRUGGLE IN FRANCE AND BELGIUM.

THE GERMANS' "GREAT EFFORT."

LONDON, Jun. 28, 6,25 p.m.

To-day's Paris communique says :-The Germans had unnounced that the Kniser's birthday would be the lengaged in the practice of dentistry occasion of a great effort, but it did not turn out to their advantage. It was this Colony for a period of at least one a good day for us, however, along the whole front. All the enemy's attacks year before the 1st August, 1914, and ware repulsed and all the French attack progressed.

We demolished enemy trenches in Belgium; the British artillery south. 14th February, 1915, shall be entitled to ward of Lys swept the routes to the concentration point of the German troops; bu registered as a dental surgeon upon there was gun and rifle-fire at Arras, Albert, Roye, Noyon, and Soissons; the his satisfying the Governor-in-Council, enemy's infantry attempted at various points to leave their trenches but were repelled by the fierce fire of our troops.

ENEMY'S "SERIOUS REVERSE.

The losses of the Germans on Monday and Tuesday at Craonne certainly amounted to a brigade. Prisoners say that their reverse was serious. Our total losses were 800, due to the severity of the fighting and the subsidence of the old quarry (in which two companies of French troops were sheltering).

"We have now regained all the disputed ground. There has been an artillery duel at Rheims, our heavy guns mastering the - enemy's. We again completely defeated three attacks south-east of St. Miheil The enemy were also repulsed at Parroy-boures. We progressed appreciably -morthward of Senones, and also gained ground at Bandesapt. We damaged the enemy's artillery defences and advanced in Alsace in the region of Ammertaviller and Burnhaupt-le-bas and held the ground gained. We repelled an attack by a German battalion near Cernay.

LONDON, Jan. 29, 3.05 a.m.

The Paris evening communique says:-The enemy on the night of the 27th inst. made no infantry attack. There were German, hombardments and a sharp fusilade-north-east of Zonnebeke, and artillery duels on the Aisne and in Argonne. Our troops north-west of of dentistry, that he is of good character, Ammertzwiller, in Alsace, held the position, notwithstanding a furious bombardment, of the ground which they won during the day. There was quiet alsewhere.

ADVANCE OF THE ALLIES.

LONDON, Jan. 29, 4.50 p.m.

A Paris communique states that there were only local actions yesterday, all of which were favourable to us.

Our infantry at Nieuport gained a footing at the Great Dune, while our guns wrecked German nircraft at other parts of the front. . Artillery duels took place and some German infantry attacks were all

PRUSSIA'S ENORMOUS LOSSES.

LONDON, Jan. 29, 5, a.m. A telegram from Amsterdam says that 141 German casualty lists have been published to 21st January. These show that the Prussian losses alone amount 988,960.

THE SINKING OF THE "BLUCHER."

Terrible Slaughter.

LONDON, Jan. 29, 5, a.m.

A newspaper correspondent conversed with wounded survivors from the German armoured cruiser Blucher in a hospital at Edinburgh. The men talked freely. They said that the ship quivered and reeled with the recoil of her own guns and the deadly British broadsides. The ship's guns were torn from their settings, and the whole of the gun crews were killed. Men were hurtled from aloft, bleeding and dead, ... Others were swept from the deck like flies. Everywhere blood was trickling. The men in authority lost their heads, and con- Government Notification No. 286 of the ing knowledge of the Scriptures in which sequently there was confusion.

Never before was there anything like it, nor can its marvellous properties ever be equalled in all cases of poorness, impurity, or other imperfection of the blood from whatever cause arising. No somer is it imbibed into the system than it permentes and penetrates to the minutest capillaries, overcoming and expelling disease, wheresoever and in whatsoever form met with; removing all blotches, pimples, scurf, scurvy, scrofulous and glandular swellings, discolorations, roughness and unsightly patches, &c. Its effects are almost magical in the treatment of gout, rheumatism, sciatics, lumbago, pains and swellings of the joints, discharges, blood polson, eczenia, lepra, psyriasis, bad legs, bad breasts, abscesses, alcers, wounds, sores, goltre or Derbyshire neck, it impropes the general health, and quickly removes long-standing bronchitis, asthma, and hucking, straining, spasmodic cough, too often the precursor of consumption.
